The study and design of automatic Control Systems, a field known as control engineering, has become important in modern technical society. From devices as simple as a toaster or a toilet, to complex machines like space shuttles and power steering, control engineering is a part of our everyday life.

Signals are converted from time or space domain to the frequency domain usually through use of the Fourier transform. The Fourier transform converts the time or space information to a magnitude and phase component of each frequency.

Abstract. There are three different way to calculate DFT. First method is using formula of DFT or simultaneous equation. Second is Correlation technique and third one is using Fast Fourier Transform (FFT).

The first two steps of a such classification system (ECG signal preprocessing and heartbeat segmentation) have been widely explored in the literature , , , . The techniques employed during the preprocessing step directly influence the final results, and therefore, should be carefully chosen.
